Simplifying the world of execution

Derivatives trading firms around the world are under intense pressure with falling commissions and tightening regulation continue to curb revenue growth and reduce profitability.

For your business to thrive in these conditions, you can't rely on a mixture of poorly integrated and outdated platforms. You need advanced technology.

Whether you're a global bank, a specialist trading firm, or somewhere in between, our integrated order management and execution solution, GTP, can transform your complexity into simplicity.

Do everything you need in one solution

- Integrated execution and order management in one platform.
- Efficiently execute complex orders with benchmark algos and our synthetic spread trader.
- Split and allocate trades directly from the execution screen using intelligent allocation algorithms.

Make your workflows easier

- Execute everything from no-touch DMA to high-touch care orders.
- Transform high-touch execution into low-touch with rule-based strategies.
- Simplify complex electronic workflows with bulking, stitching, linking, and spread tail management.

Trade anytime, anywhere

- Access any market in the world, 24 hours a day, directly or through our vast connectivity network
- Empower your global teams to implement a follow-the-sun model with our order handover functionality.
- Connect from anywhere using your mobile device, laptop or workstation.

Get a complete view of your business

- Consolidated view of all your trading activity and risk and easily drill down into accounts, trades, and positions.
- Monitor your execution performance with integrated real-time analytics.
- Respond rapidly to issues with exception-based monitoring and alerts.
