Simple, fast, reliable, and integrated back-office technology

As a technology leader in your firm, you want to deliver the most effective and innovative technology infrastructure, continually improving and upgrading to ensure the most advanced capabilities are available to the business as an enabler to achieving a competitive advantage.

XTP Spark is an out-of-the-box, all-in-one automated workflow solution that meets all industry standards and regulations on security. It provides extensive interoperability, and can plug-and-play with existing ION and third-party systems.

- Integrates easily into your tech stack and architecture.
- Uses robust, proven, and fully supported methodology that minimizes additional resource requirements on your side.
- Follows a predictable step-by-step installation timeline.

XTP Spark is an ideal back-office solution for banks and brokers, commodity trading firms, and niche clearers who require fast, efficient, and accurate functionality that satisfies all regulatory and exchange requirements.

Transforming complexity into simplicity, XTP Spark gives your back-office team everything they need:

Real-time clearing, allocations, settlement and reporting

Instant visibility of client activity and exposure

Smart trade processing analytics

XTP Spark streamlines and accelerates workflows by automating processes and eliminating manual steps within a robust control framework, processing large trade volumes at high STP rates.

Scalable capacity frees your business to grow and expand while reducing the total cost of ownership (TCO) of your technology infrastructure.

A quick to implement, ready to use, reliable, and trusted back-office platform, XTP Spark runs continuously in real time, 24 hours a day with no downtime. And it can be readily connected to your existing systems using our flexible integration tools.

Address the needs of other stakeholders across your organization

For business decision makers:

- Providing everything your back-office team needs to work efficiently.
- Reducing TCO, enabling profitable expansion.
- Provides ready access to advanced analytics for client profiling.

For operations leads:

- Streamlines and automates workflows to optimize business processes and improve customer service.
- Installs quickly, and is easy to understand and use.
- Enables easy extraction and manipulation of data to create detailed reports quickly.
- Unlocking potential to handle more clients without needing additional headcount.
